POCKEY-PLYPSE

AN ILLUSTRATED POEM

{PART TWO of TWO}

When they saw this, the deities,
knew that time's at hand
RIGHT!
WRONG

for sin and damn, and razorwire for slicing up the land.

"Now that we're all done with this,
eternity will be grant

The good were good as good could be.
The bad were pretty bad.

The sky turned black. The mountain cracked.
The happy all went sad.

They could not see where they'd gone wrong.
What options had they had?

"Oh, people. Come and walk with us!"
for this was their reward.

But the people did not listen.
Now they trusted neither lord.

North
South
So some went North and some went South
and all of them got bored.

THE END